Toronto Climate Action Network - Application Form

The objectives of the Toronto Climate Action Network:

The Toronto Climate Action Network (TCAN) is a network of action - oriented organizations working together to address the threat of climate change.

To accomplish this goal TCAN will seek to:

- 1. share information among TCAN members through the use of social media, websites and a common online calendar of events;*
- 2. foster collaboration and coordination among member groups and with other organizations sharing similar objectives and goals to maximize group success;*
- 3. start a cooperative outreach and education program to improve public awareness, understanding and support for effective action against climate change;*
- 4. persuade all levels of government of the urgent need for effective, science - based policies to combat the threat of climate change.*

TCAN is a network of diverse organizations united by their commitment to fighting climate change. While TCAN's Member-organizations are expected to share this common goal, it is understood that they will support its specific objectives in a variety of ways consistent with their differing strengths and mandates.

Bearing this proviso in mind, is your organization prepared to support TCAN's objectives as stated here?
